

Catch a preview of coming attractions...

...starring your baby.

With 3D Ultrasound

You can now catch a glimpse of your baby through advanced ultrasound technology, all in the convenience, comfort and safety of your own physician office. Experience seeing your child's face for the first time and take home images that you can share with family and friends now... and with your son or daughter in years to come.

While not a medical or diagnostic procedure, 3D ultrasound uses the same technology with special software and equipment that enable you to see high resolution images and movement of your unborn baby. Seeing your baby move around can bring a whole new perspective to the kicks you feel. Some parents even begin guessing who the child looks like.

Because this service is available through Seven Hills Women's Health Centers, it is physician-supervised and administered by certified medical sonographers.

Your 3D ultrasound session will build your connection with the life growing inside you and your anticipation for the birth of your child.
